

The 23rd Meeting of the International Circle of Korean Linguistics

Theme: *Empirical approaches to Korean language and linguistics

Location: Palacký University Olomouc, Czech Republic

Date: 28-30 June 2023

The 23rd Biennial Meeting of the International Circle of Korean Linguistics (ICKL 2023) is held at Palacký University Olomouc, Czech Republic on 28-30 June 2023. ICKL 2023 is being planned as a fully in-person event (following COVID-19 protocols dictated by the University).

Invited Speakers

- Nayoung KWON (University of Oregon)
- Sun Hee PARK (Ewha Womans University)
- Jieun KIAER (University of Oxford)

We welcome abstracts for papers on any aspect of Korean language and linguistics including, but not limited to (in alphabetical order):

- Bilingualism
- Computational Linguistics
- Corpus Linguistics
- First/Second Language Acquisition
- Historical-Comparative Linguistics
- Interactional Linguistics
- Language Learning and Teaching
- Morphology
- Natural Language Processing
- Phonetics
- Phonology
- Pragmatics
- Psycholinguistics
- Semantics
- Sociolinguistics
- Syntax

We particularly welcome any study that fits the theme of ICKL 2023 -- empirical approaches to Korean language and linguistics, whether it be corpus-based, experimental, or computational. We also accept abstracts for on-going research as long as they clearly state research questions/hypotheses, approaches, methods, data and expected results. In addition, we encourage student researchers to submit their work.

Presenters will be encouraged to submit their work for consideration to Korean Linguistics (<https://benjamins.com/catalog/kl>), the journal of ICKL publishing high quality and state-of-the-art research in Korean linguistics.

For abstract submission (guidelines), please refer to the conference website:
